

What's Planted in Your Dream /Fantastical Garden

By Olivia Abraham

Imagine yourself walking in a magical garden. This is my dream garden. There would be magic here and magic there. Let me share with you what this garden will entail.

The garden will have rows and rows of flowers such as roses, tulips and more. People who need fresh vegetables would have the opportunity to pluck them. They will also be able to get a handful of seeds to grow these vegetables in their own garden. They can have fruit and vegetables such as juicy watermelon, sweet corn, and crunchy carrots. I hope that this will help end hunger in the world.

It will have trees that have juicy apples and oranges so people can take a nice big bite out of them. In the middle of the big garden, there would be one special tree that has the most magic. It would be a tall, large, green tree which has different fruit. When you pick the fruit, there will be a nice message inside like a fortune cookie. Imagine taking a big bite out of a juicy apple. The juice will spill out and it would have a positive affirmation for you to read. An example of the note would be "You are beautiful", "You are kind", "Remember, you are loved", and many more like that. If someone is having a 'down in the dump' day, they can come by and the garden will help lift their spirits. It will have clouds that say positive things about the day. I hope this will end sadness and grief in the world.

My garden would also have a big blue pool that you are able to splash into on a hot summer day. There will be different types of fruit juices that you can enjoy. There would be a button that you can get fresh, tall, icy smoothies made from the fruit in the garden. A machine would be able to grab the fruit, blend it and serve it right to your hand. In the cold winter nights, the pool will turn into a hot jacuzzi where you can relax your muscles. When it is cold, you can have steaming, delicious hot chocolate to warm you up.

When kids leave, they will be able to get any of their favorite food to go. They would also get magical candy that when they eat it, they will never get cavities. This garden did not forget about the hardworking parents! For the parents, they will get a fresh bouquet of flowers and they will get to go on a comfy massage chair so they can relax.

This is a glimpse into my dream garden. Not only is this garden fun and active, but It also helps a lot of people. I hope to share it with the whole world.
